THANK YOU NOTES

Dear College Street Baptist Church,

My family and I would like to thank you for the memorial gift for our brother, Robert Lee Tew III (R.L.). He would be very proud! He will be missed so very much. He is in a better place now and in no more pain. He is now with our Heavenly Father. Thank you all for the love and prayers.

Sincerely,
Linda Addington & Family

Dear College Street Church Family,

To each of you, thanks so much for all your prayers, encouragement, cards, calls and texts as well as the delicious meal after the service for James.

We are blessed having “peace from trusting the Lord” and having a loving, caring church family.

God’s blessing to all.

Linda Quarles & Family

Student Ministries

- Lauren Beddingfield, Director of Student Ministries

Dear CSBC,

This time of year is my favorite when Thanksgiving and Christmas are upon us . It doesn't matter how bad or hard the year was, is, or still might be, Thanksgiving and Christmas still come. Out of the oven comes my Uncle Scot's turkey, and out of boxes come ornaments that I've had since I was a kid. The singing ornaments still have just a bit of singing in them, vacation ornaments herald back to much warmer weather, and my 20 yes you read that right "Beauty and the Beast" ornaments are all placed together as though they are in a club. It always makes me smile to look at all those good (and getting older by the year—help!) memories.

I also know that Christmas might be hard for you this year. The pandemic or life in general took hopes and dreams away from you. You might have lost a family member this year that loves Christmas and it will be hard to celebrate without them. Someone you know might be hurting or sad and you don't know what to do. Your family might be fighting, and the holidays might remind you that you haven't reconciled with them. Christmas is persistent though. It comes even when you don't feel like celebrating. It comes whether you're excited about it or dreading it. It comes because Christmas is about hope. God's people hoped and waited for their Messiah to come. But they looked down and behind and around them and were losing their hope. The world around them was under Roman rule and was a mess. There didn't seem to be any reason to have hope. Everything they thought God had promised them was nowhere to be found. Everything they wanted and hoped for seemed to be crumbling all around them. What they didn't know was that a young couple were on their way to Bethlehem, a place they weren't looking. All the hope of the world was on its way to Bethlehem. All they had to do was look forward and remember God's promises and look up in the sky to see the star (something tells me the shepherds and the wise men weren't the only ones that saw it). Up and forward was all they needed to do.

So, if this Christmas is going to be wonderful or if it might seem like it might be miserable, look up and forward. I hope our church continues to look up at the Star and forward towards Easter. God has so many good things coming your way. And mine. And our church. Just look up! And look forward!
